Corpus Christi: Christ Remembrance

I wonder how long I will be remembered after I die. I wonder, too, what I will be remembered for. What would you like to be remembered for? What do you think you will actually be remembered for? You might have to write your memoirs to ensure that the answer to both questions is the same.

What will guarantee that remembrance? Photos? Mementos? The day will surely come when someone will look at those pictures and say, "They should have written the names on the back." And the mementos will end up in a box and someone for whom they no longer have meaning will one day discard them. There are different ways, of course, to make sure your mark will never be forgotten.

In the Old Testament, especially the books of Exodus and Leviticus, the word "Remember," was originally repeated in many verses, but was later changed with the phrase, "Do not forget." It ensured that the saving acts of God on behalf of his people were not to be taken lightly. The Passover and many other festivals were meant precisely to keep the memory of them alive.

Jesus did not want to be forgotten. So he "left us a memorial," as we heard in the Last Supper. The memorial Jesus left us is unique, because it doesn't point only to the past. It's much more than a reminder. In it we believe that he is actually present among us. We believe that he gives himself to us, truly, as food and drink. As St. Paul reminds us, "The cup of blessing that we bless is a participation in the blood of Christ, and the bread that we break is a participation in the body of Christ."

"Do this in memory of me." These are the words that conclude the Consecration of the Bread and Wine, taken from St. Luke's and St. Paul's accounts of what Jesus did at the Last Supper. They are a command, but they can also be taken as a plea, a solemn request, that we never forget him. On the eve of his death, he gave us something to remember him by. He wanted to be remembered for his gift of self.

The memorial is the Sacrament. The memory, however, resides in the whole Church, which passes on the story and the teaching of Jesus from generation to generation. Every time we share in the memorial, our memory is refreshed.

In the Eucharist, however, the concept of "memorial" is turned upside down. Listen again to Jesus' words: "Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life." Instead of just keeping someone's memory alive, this memorial actually gives life—and eternal life (May the Body and Blood of Christ bring eternal life to those who receive it), at that—to those who engage in the act of remembering.

From a Catholic perspective, that prayer is answered perfectly in the Eucharist!

Warning

There are organised criminals who regularly target unsuspecting people through their email account requesting money. It is a scam designed to separate you from your money. There are currently several of these emails attacking parishioner's email addresses. Your priests will NEVER send you a email soliciting money. If you receive a fraudulent email report it as a scam and delete - under no circumstances respond to their request.

Kawana Community 10 week Lectio Divina Bible Study

Kawana Community would like to invite all Parishioners and your friends to a Bible Study commencing this week on 'Peter in the New Testament':

DATES: 23 June-7 July, (2 wk course evaluation break), then those wishing to continue, 28 July-8 Sept.

PLACE: Air-conditioned Good Shepherd Centre (opp the Library & Community Centre) Nanyima St, Buddina.

TIME: 8am-9:30am (followed by morning tea).

The suggestion is that those who are new to a Bible study, or have not experienced a Lectio Divina approach to scripture that you make a three session commitment to attend & then reassess whether you find the Course beneficial, meeting your expectations, and fitting into your weekly schedule.

There is no obligation, no cost (donation to offset the Parish Office printing costs would be appreciated), and a free Bible will be supplied for those who don't have their own personal copy. The course is presented by the USA-based Catholic Augustine Institute

Through the program, you'll come to know Peter, love Peter, and identify with his humanity. He was not a theologian, not a Pharisee, not a rabbi, not a son or disciple of a rabbi - just a fisherman who will inspire you in his transformation and encourage you in 'casting your nets into the deep'.

For registration or enquires please contact: John Manion Email: johnmanion@optusnet.com.au Phone: 0416 154 144

Last week to Donate

Fr Josh, Dan McShea, Principal of Unity College, and Michael Stewart, principal of OLR Primary School, will be roughing it in the cold and (hopefully not) wet on Thursday night, 23rd June.

Thank you to all who have already generously donated. If you still wish to make a donation feel free to follow the links below and support the Vinnies CEO Sleep Out.
