The Reinstitution of Holy Communion Under Both Species

The Archbishop of Brisbane, has advised that the provision of Communion under both species (the Body and Blood of Christ) is able to be reintroduced safely in this post-COVID world. It may be worth a quick revisit of what the Church teaches about Communion in both forms.

Scripture refers to Communion in both forms. The earliest reference appears in Paul's first letter to the Corinthians (11:23-29). Verses 23-26 and 29 clearly specify receiving both species while verse 27, "Whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup," (emphasis added) seems to reflect the Church doctrine of concomitance - namely, that full Eucharistic grace may be received under the form of one species alone. In John 6, the Lord's words about the Eucharist alternate between speaking of one species and speaking of both, while the three Gospel accounts of the institution of the Eucharist refer to both species (see Mt 26:26-28; Mk 14:22-24; Lk 22:17-19).

By the time of the Council of Trent (16th/17th centuries), Communion under one kind (the Body) was the common practice. The three basic provisions of Trent's teaching are that Communion under one kind is the "law"; that in receiving under one kind the faithful fully receive Christ; and that the Church has authority to determine how best the sacraments may be administered. The reasons for restricting Communion under both kinds to the clergy are summarized in the Catholic Encyclopaedia (1912 edition) as follows: "The danger of spilling the Precious Blood and of other forms of irreverence; the inconvenience and delay in administering the chalice to large numbers; the difficulty of reservation for Communion outside of Mass; the not unreasonable objection on hygienic and other grounds".

In the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy (Sacrosanctum Concilium, No. 55), the Second Vatican Council spoke to the question of Communion under both kinds. It began by saying, "The dogmatic principles which were laid down by the Council of Trent [remain] intact." Communion under one kind is still the "law." Yet Communion under both kinds "may be granted when the bishops think fit, not only to cleric and religious but also the laity."

In the ordinary form of the Mass, the distribution of Holy Communion under both kinds is an option whose usage had, pre COVID, become a daily occurrence in many countries, but by no means everywhere.

The instruction, Redemptionis Sacramentum, promulgated in 2004, explains the context of this practice: "So that the fullness of the sign may be made more clearly evident to the faithful in the course of the Eucharistic banquet, lay members of Christ's faithful, too, are admitted to Communion under both kinds, in the cases set forth in the liturgical books, preceded and continually accompanied by proper catechesis regarding the dogmatic principles on this matter laid down by the Ecumenical Council of Trent" (100).

This laudable intention frequently meets the catechetical stumbling block mentioned. Undoubtedly, Holy Communion under both species illustrates Christ's intention that we eat his Body and drink his Blood.

The purpose, then, of receiving Holy Communion under both kinds, is not that the faithful receive more grace than when they receive it under one kind alone, but that the faithful are enabled to appreciate vividly the value of the sign.

In short, we are in full communion with God in the reception of the Body of Christ alone. If you have any concerns about receiving the Blood of Christ, please understand and know that it is not required. Many people however take great solace in the reception of Communion under both kinds and for this reason, we are very happy to be able to offer this again. Our Communion Ministers have all been retrained in the safe sharing of the Cup. Please receive the Blood of Christ from next weekend onward if you feel comfortable doing so.

Peace and blessings, Fr Josh

Faith Communities Council Nominations

The development of the Parish Strategic Plan is continuing smoothly with support from Evangelisation Brisbane and our wide team of dedicated lay leaders from the six Ministry Leadership Teams. We remain on track for the planned launch on Pentecost Sunday, just a few short weeks from now. Our next key focus is the formation of our Faith Communities Council. This particular body of lay leaders will come together regularly to represent each of our eight worship communities and two schools and will support the implementation of the Parish Strategic Plan, offer both cohesion and communication between our different communities. More information is available on the parish website Home Page, including the position description and nomination form:

<https://caloundracatholicparish.net/>

Following on from our request in the newsletter front page two weeks ago, for all parishioners to pray and discern the membership of this team, Our Lady of the Rosary Parish is now inviting your nominations of potential leaders to represent your community. If you have, through prayer and discernment, identified either yourself or another community member as a potential leader, could you please submit a nomination using this link:

<https://forms.gle/zR2M9Mh5fVYuas7D6>

Alternatively, please complete one of the paper nomination forms available at the church entrances and place on the collection plate or hand it to the priest after Mass. We have a dream that our Faith Communities Council will consist of local community leaders on fire for the mission of the parish. Members of the Council will help to place evangelisation at the centre of our parish. We ask that you, and every single member of our parish, prays for the Holy Spirit to call forth women and men with the charism of leadership at this time. Come Holy Spirit.

Fr Josh and the Parish Team

Welcome to our 'Faithful Servants' series

...a new feature that will faithfully share and regularly feature the ever-present 'servants of the faith' across our local parish community. We continue this feature with a focus on our new Ministry area leaders. This week we introduce OLR Youth Minister Felicity Jones, and the work she continues to achieve in her new role as Youth & Young Adults Ministry Leader.

When Felicity Jones was nominated college captain of St Mary's College Ipswich seven years ago and volunteered to be Ipswich Catholic Parish's Youth Co-ordinator and Campus Minister she didn't realise back then, what she now knows, that the Holy Spirit was very well preparing her for a leadership role. As Youth Minister at Unity College, Caloundra West and her new parish community at Our Lady of the Rosary, Felicity is well-qualified to lead forward the new Youth and Young Adults Ministry at Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Parish. Learn more about Felicity in this week's eNewsletter online.
